HOW HE MADE THE BOMB. VAILLANT TELLS HIS STORY

IT TOOK HIM TWO WEEKS TO GET TO-GETHER THE NECESSARY CHEMICALS.

THE COMB STRAPPED TO HIS BODY WHEN HE WENT TO THE FRENCH CHAMBER OF DEPU-

Paris, Dec. 15.-"La Liberté" gives the following version of the examination of Auguste Vailby the Juge d'Instruction: Vaillant said that he obtained the sum of 100 francs from a prosperous militant Anarchist, it being understood that the money was to be expended in making arrangements for a grand He determined that the coup should be nade in the Chamber of Deputies, and at once set about procuring the materials to make a bomb. He purchased the chemicals in small quantities at various shops, pretending that he as a dyer and wanted them for use in his aterial enough for his purpose. The arrangeent of the tube which was in the bomb he had found especially troublesome. It was necessary that the middle of the tube should be narrowed. To effect this alteration he warmed the tube over a candle and when it was suffily heated, he twisted it so much to make the en he put the tube in a saucepan, first filling e end with pierie acid. A cotton plug was in he middle of the tube and green powder in the other end. The closed end was surrounded with owder. The remaining space in the saucepan filled with three pounds of nails. The bomb was finished on Friday night, and he fastened the cover on tightly with iron wire. On Saturwas finished on Friday night, and he fastened the cover on tightly with iron wire. On Saturday, the day of the explosion, he placed the bemb on his stomach between his trousers waistband and a flannel belt. He then boarded a tramcar at Montrouge and proceeded to the Chamber of Deputies.

When asked if he did not fear that the bomb would explode on the journey, Vaillant replied: "Well, what about it? My tripes would have been blown out; that's all."

Continuing, he said that at 11:15 o'clock in the morning he took a place in the line of people outside the Chamber. He had a card of admission, which he did not use. Inside, he was made to remove his overcoat; but to this he was indifferent, as his jacket hid the machine. "You meant to escape after the explosion?" queried the Juge d'Instruction.

"No." answered Vaillant, "I wanted to throw the bomb on to the Government benches, and afterward mount the rostrum and explain the act. Unfortunately a woman's arm touched mine, and this made the bomb explode too soon." He said, in answer to other questions, that a nail hit him on the nose, and the smoke suffocated him so that he was unable to speak. He went out with the others from the gallery.

The Juge d'Instruction asked him: "Since you did not wish to fiee, why did you not give yourself up immediately."

Vaillant answered: "I wanted to see the effect bombs would produce. It made me grin to hear the ladies explain to the magistrate that the

Vaillant answered: "I wanted to see the effect bombs would produce. It made me grin to hear the ladies explain to the magistrate that the bomb had a fuse a foot long, which they saw lighted. Everybody was maddened and dazed. My neighbors in the same gallery passed me several times without recognizing me. I grinned when I saw people who were merely scratched act as though they believed they were bound to succumb to their injuries."

The prisoner said he noticed that the wife of a Deputy had a tiny scratch on her wrist. When the doctor was bathing it she screamed, "Oh, you are killing me."

"Do you know that the Abbé Lemire, a Deputy, was gravely wounded?" asked the Juge a linstruction.

"Do you know that the Aboe Lemine, a Jope uty, was gravely wounded?" asked the Juge d'Instruction.
"It served him right," answered Vaillant; "the place of priests is not in the Chamber."
"But General Billot was also wounded," said the magistrate, tentatively.
"Ah." Vaillant laughingly said, "he might have drawn his sabre and shouted 'Auvergne' as a battle cry."
"But many innocent persons were wounded," the magistrate persisted.
Vaillant replied: "This affair was only a warning. If I had used balls in the bomb instead of nails, many people would have been killed."
When asked why he had committed the crime, the prisoner answered: "Society forced me to do it. I was in miserable circumstances. I only regret losing one thing—my daughter. All the same, I am glad. You had better guillotine me, for if I am acquitted I must be released. This bomb affair may seem a joke, but it is one that I would begin again within a week."

SHAM BOMBS SCATTERED ABOUT PARIS. MANY PLACED AT THE DOORS OF ARISTOCRATS'

HOUSES-THE GOVERNMENT OPPOSED TO

AN ANTI-ANARCHIST LEAGUE. Paris, Dec. 15.-The excitement growing out of the threats of alleged Anarchists continues. It'is kept up in a measure by the tricks of practical jokers, who prepare sham bombs of large dimensions and place them at the doors of houses occu-pied by aristocrats. Some of these wicked-looking bombs have been found to be stuffed with nothing bombs have been found to be stuffed with nothing more dangerous than emery, which resembles gunpowder, and cotton. Their discovery always creates terror, and the police are kept busy in carting the things off to the Prefecture. One of these sham bombs was left at the house of M. de Rothschild. It will go hard with the jokers if they fall into the hands of the police.

The authorities have determined to close the Malson du Peuple, a resort of Anarchists and extreme Socialists, if the incendiary speeches made there are continued.

The French Government is under the speeches made.

The French Government is understood to be posed to the plan for an international league against Anarchists. The British Government holds similar views. The consensus of official opinion here is that any international agreement would have to be limited to a better organization of the police. It was learned this evening that Paul Reclus has gone to London to procure Vaillant's last com-munication to him, which was forwarded to England munication to him. When the street was a considered of respective produce the paper within twenty-four hours. A detective left the city on the same train with Reclus, and crossed the Channel with him.

The woman who sat in the gallery of the Chamber with Valllant last Saturday and spoiled his aim was examined by a police commissary to-day. She said she noticed Valllant because he was so nervous. He annoyed her so with his fidgeting that she finally turned to rebuke him. Just as she turned he raised the bomb to throw it. Her movement startled him, and this made his aim uncertain.

ALLEGED PIRACY OF FRENCH STATUETTES. Paris, Dec. 15.—The case of the Soleavs, bronze statuette makers, against the Meriden Britannia Company, of Connecticut, and S. H. FOR LOWER INTEREST ON GREEK LOANS. Athens, Dec. 15.-M. Tricoupis, Premier and Minister of Finance, has introduced a bill in the Boule providing for a reduction in the rate of interest on the foreign loans. The measure passed its first reading yesterday. The Reichsbank has called a Berlin, Dec. 16.—The Reichsbank has called a meeting of the holders of Greek bonds for the pur-pose of protecting their interests in view of the financial action which Greece proposes to take.

Milan, Dec. 15.-There is a probability now that the proposed duel between Signor Boito and Signor the proposed duel between Signor Boito and Signor Sonzogno, growing out of the withdrawal of Cowen's opera "Signa" from the stage of the Theatre Dal Verme, in this city, may take place. Pietro Mascagni, the composer; Signor Cavalotti, a member of the Chamber of Deputies, and Signor Bizzoni, a journalist, have arrived here, having come because of the projected duel. It is said that Signor Bloto has chosen Signor Scarfoglio, a journalist, author of "Carafa Andria," as his second.

DEFENDING "VORWAERTS'S" UTTERANCES. Berlin, Dec. 15 .- Herr Max Schippel, Social Demo-Berlin, Dec. Is.—Herr and Schipper, Social Demo-rat, in to-day's session of the Reichstag attacked or. von Bennigsen, National-Liberal, for linking he Anarchist outrages with Socialism. He de-ended the leaders on the bomb outrages published in the "Vorwarts," the organ of the Social Demo-crats. The language used in these leaders was moderate, he said, compared with that used by the Agrarian and Conservative organs in their attacks on the Government.

Dr. Miquel, Minister of Finance, rebutted the Socialist accusation that he, in 1847, had advocated Communism. He produced and laid upon the table the remarks from which the Socialists quoted. The Minister added that he still maintained that private property must experience limitations. This, however, did not imply that he approved Communism. He upheld the rights of individual property.

THE CRISPI CABINET SWORN IN. PROMPTLY ENTERING ON THEIR RESPECTIVE DUTIES-THE NEW MINISTRY WELL

Rome, Dec. 15.-The Cabinet is announced to have been finally constituted as follows: President of the Council and Minister of the Interior, SHE, MARRIES PRINCE EDMOND MELCHOIR DE Francesco Crispi; Minister of Foreign Affairs, Baron Alberto Blanc; Minister of Justice, Signor Andrea Calenda di Tavani; Minister of Finance and ad interim Minister of the Treasury, Baron Giorgio Sonnino; Minister of Public Works, Signor Giuseppe Saracco; Minister of War, Lieutenant-General Stanislao Mocenni; Minister of Marine, Vice-Admiral Constantino Morin; Minister of Public Instruction, Dr. Guido Baccelli; Minister of Agriculture, Dr. Paolo Boselli; Minister of Posts and Telegraphs, Dr. Maggiorino Ferrarie

The Ministers had an audience with King Humbert at 3 o'clock this afternoon, and subsequently took the oath of office. They formally took possession of their offices at 4 o'clock. The Chamber will be convoked next Monday, but will be adjourned almost immediately, that the Ministers may have time to prepare a plan for decreasing the delicit.

On the whole, the new Cabinet has been well received by the politicians and press, although it

wed. To effect this alteration he warmed up over a candle and when it was sufficiently heated, he twisted it so much to make the ng the proper size that he broke it in the le. He destroyed fourteen tubes before he eded in getting one fixed to his satisfaction. The twisted it is a saucepan, first filling the tube in a saucepan, first filling of the Triple Alliance.

of the Triple Alliance.

It is reported that one of the new Cabinet's first acts will be to dissolve the workingmen's associations in Italy, on the ground that they provoked the riots at the time of the Aigues-Mortes affair and later.

FOR ELECTORAL REFORM IN AUSTRIA. MINISTER VON PLENER TELLS WHY UNIVERSAL SUFFRAGE IS INEXPEDIENT THERE NOW-THE YOUNG CZECHS REBUKED.

Vienna, Dec. 15.-Ernst von Plener, Minister of Finance, and formerly leader of the German Liberal Deputies, announced in the Lower House to-day that, despite recent disturbances in the money tinue reforming the currency and introducing a change of taxation according to the principle that the heaviest burdens must be borne by the strongest shoulders. The lower classes would be spared as much as was consistent with the needs of the State.

snoulders. The lower classes would be spared as much as was consistent with the needs of the State. Dr. von Plener proceeded from these announcements to a general political oration of the first rank. The allied parties represented in the Cabinet, he said, were united by community of views on foreign affairs and by mutual recognition of the value and constitutional necessity of electoral reform. The change in the Suffrage laws must be made so as to give the masses the ballot without menacing the rightful interests of the bourgeoisie and peasantry.

Universal suffrage was now inexpedient in Austria, because the education of the masses was far below the requirements. He could only regret that the Czechs, Istrians and Dalmatians, who formed the Opposition, did not exert themselves to correct this deplorable state of affairs in the districts represented by them. The question involved in the petty stage of slege in Prague had been unduly complicated by the Young Czech party, who were incling the Czech people against the conditions of life indispensable both to Bohemia and Austria. The matter at issue was not the fate of this or that Ministry, but the development and strengthening of Austria at a time when the whole social organization of Europe had been summoned to choose between reform and revolution.

Prolonged appliause from the Deputies of the allied parties followed the close of Dr. von Plener's speech.

explosives, or illegally have in their possession explosives or material for the manufacture of explosives, was passed without serious opposition. The bill granting a credit of $99,090 francs for the police, to enable them further to combat Anarchism, was adopted by a vote of 447 to 45.

M. Avez, the Socialist Deputy who was wounded by the explosion last Saturday, had recovered sufficiently to take part in the debate on the police grant, which he opposed on the ground that the police were maintained only to protect the bourgeoisle from the rebellion of the working people who had been impoverished by them.

M. Goblet introduced a bill reforming the Mining laws, including a proposal that the mines be nationalized when strikes occur due to injustice on the part of the companies. This bill, together with a proposal made by M. Victor Dejeante, Revolution-proposal made by M. Victor Dejeante, Revolutionpart of the companies. This bill, together with a proposal made by M. Victor Dejeante, Revolution-ary Socialist, to allot 5,000,000 francs for the suffer-ers by the strikes, was referred to a committee.

COLONNA ALLEGES NO JURISDICTION.

HIS PLEA IN OPPOSITION TO THE PRINCESS'S ACTION IN THE FRENCH COURTS FOR A SEPARATION.

A SEPARATION.

Paris, Dec. 15.—Though there was no hearing yesterday in the action brought by Princess Colonna, step-daughter of John W. Mackay, for a judicial separation from the Prince, her husband, the case came formally before the court. Maitre du Burt appeared for the Princess, Maitre Desjardines deposited a plea that the court did not have jurisdiction to hear and determine the case, neither of the parties to the action being French. The pleadings will be heard on December 28.

The representative of the United Press had a conversation to-day with Maitre Desjardines, who holds a brief for Prince Colonna. Maitre Desjardines says he believes the court will be bound to indorse the plea of no jurisdiction set up by the Prince, and to reject the Princes's demand for a Separation. He adds that the Princess contends that the Prince established himself in Paris without any intention of ever returning to Italy, but that the Prince can produce many documents proving that he still possesses domiciliary rights in Naples.

THE CITY OF WASHINGTON RAN AGROUND. Havana, Dec. 15.—The New-York and Cuba Mail Steamship Company's steamer City of Washington, Captain Burley, from Matanzas via Havana for New-York, was stranded in this harbor for a few hours to-day. She got afloat at 1 o'clock this after-noon, having sustained no apparent damage.

The City of Washington is a sister ship to the City of Alexandria, which was lost recently off the coast of Cuba through an unaccountable explosion and fire in her hold.

THE TRIAL OF THE FRENCH SPIES.

Leipsic, Dec. 15.-The trial of Dubois and Daguet, the French spies arrested aboard the yacht Insect, off Kiel, last August, was continued here to-day. In answering the judge's questions, the prisoners confessed without reserve that they had sketched the North German coast with the intention of placing their work in the hands of the French military authorities. The prosecutor for the Crown said tary authorities. The prosecutor for the Crown said in his final speech that France maintained a wide-spread system of espionage for the purpose of obtaining information as to Germany's defences. A deterrent example should be made of each of the prisoners. He would ask therefore that Dubois be sentenced to penal servitude for five years; Dagnet to penal servitude for four years. The lawyer for the prisoners will plead to-morrow.

M. GEORGEVICH DYING FROM HIS WOUND. Paris, Dec. 15.-The condition of M. Georgevich, Servian Minister to France, who was stabbed on the night of November 12 while he was dining at the night of November 13 while he was dining at the Duval Bouillon Restaurant, has suddenly be-come worse, and it is feared that he will die. The stabbing was done by a shoemaker named Leau-thier, who claims to be an independent Anarchist. He did not know M. Georgevich, but, having re-solved to kill one of the bourgeoiste, he entered the restaurant and stabbed the diplomat in the right side with a bradawi.

INSURANCE MEN TESTIFY IN MONSON'S TRIAL. .

Edinburgh, Dec. 15.—This was the third day of MAY FIGHT A DUEL OVER THE OPERA the Monson murder trial. The first witness called the Monson murder trial. The first witness called the day was David Stewart, secretary of the Liverpool and London and Glasgow Insurance Com-pany. He testified that on July 25 Monson called pool and London and Chagon Instance pany. He testified that on July 25 Monson called at the Glasgow office in reference to a proposal which had been made that the company issue a policy for $10,000 on the life of Lieutenant Hambrough. The head office declined to accept the risk. James Wardle, the manager at Leeds for the same insurance company, testified that a proposal was handed to him on May 25, 1892, for a $15,000 policy on Lieutenant Hambrough's life. Another proposal was lodged at the same time for a $50,000 policy in the name of Mrs. Monson, who claimed that that sum was due her from Lieutenant Hambrough for four years' board, expenses of education and advances made by her. The company considered the statement in the proposal too vague, risk was declined.

mately the wisely, of the Scottish Provident So-William Wisely, of the Scottish Provident Society, testified that the Edinburgh office of this society had received a proposal from Monson to take a feb.000 risk on the life of another person. The proposal posal was signed by Mrs. Monson. The company did not receive proof of her interest, and the application was dropped.

Beresford Tottenham, a financial agent, of London, said that arrangements had been made by the terms of which he advanced to Monson is weekly for Lieutenant Hambrough. He knew Monson had no means. Witness received a letter in which Monson said he had told Hambrough that the Ardiamont estate cost £5,000, whereas 148,000 was to be paid for it. On the day of Hambrough's death witness received a telegram from Monson, and he went to Ardiamont on the following day. Monson then told him that the insurances on Hambrough's life amounted to £20,000. The witness then expressed regret that he had had anything to do with either Monson or the dead man. Monson replied that everything would be all right presently. He would make up the witness's claims when the policies were met.

At noon the religious ceremony was performed at the Carmelite Chapel. The stepfather of the bride. M. Paul Sohege, gave her away. At this service the bride wore a cream-colored satin dress, with a train horiered with azaleax. On her head was a minute lace bonnet with a white algretic. The frame was biack steel. There was no veil. Her mother wore a dress of imperial blue and sables. The Duchess Decazes was dressed in an exquisite gown of light heliotrope. The beauty of Princess Camille de Polignac was heightened by an artistic combination of yellow and black. Abbe Broglie said low mass. The organist played a composition of the bridegroom and selections from Bach. Only a few friends were present. After the ceremony they gathered in the vestry and constantiated the newly married couple.

The Marquis de Modena, Count Joachim Murat. Lady Paget, Count and Countess Guy de Polignac, Princess Camille de Polignac, Franklin Singer and wife, and a few others partook of the wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's mother, in the Avenue Kleber. Before starting on their honeymoon, which will be spent on the Riviera, the Prince and Princess left a large sum of money to be distributed among the poor.

TRADE TREATIES IN THE REICHSTAG. PASSAGE OF THE RUMANIAN, SERVIAN AND SPANISH CONVENTIONS-COUNT HERBERT ATTACKS THE GOVERNMENT.

Berlin, Dec. 15.—The Rumanian, Spanish and Servian commercial treaties, which have been be-fore the Reichstag for discussion for several days, passed their third and final reading to-day. During the debate on the treaties to-day Coun-Herbert Bismarck made a violent attack upon the Herbert Bismarck made a violent attack upon the Government, in which he declared that Chancellor von Caprivi had adopted a policy of free trade which would result in damage to the Fatherland. Count Herbert proposed that the three treaties remain in force for one year only, instead of ten years, as originally provided.

Freiherr Marschall Bieberstein, the Minister of Foreign Affairs, said the Government was convinced of the necessity of protection in order to benefit National labor, and was determined to maintain it; but, he added, the operations of the treaties would in no way affect such protection. Prince von Radziwill, at the close of debate, protested against the insinuation made by the Conservatives that the Poles had bargained away their votes for Polish concessions. The Poles, he declared, supported the treaties because the policy of Chancellor von Caprivi generally inspired them with strong confidence.

He enter as a student the University of Oxford. He is seventeen years old, and a bright and intelligent-looking lad of decidedly Mongolian type. His com-plexion is a pale, sallow brown, rather than yellow. He is accompanied by his younger brother, and the two princes are under the charge of their uncle.

Milan Again Penniless .- It is announced that ex King Milan of Servia has again come to the end of his financial tether. Since his abdication he is al his manical tener, since is accidental ne is al-leged to have spent nearly $5,000,000, and it is re-garded as probable that he will attempt some frest coup detat with a view to the acquisition of a sub-stantial subsidy from the Servian Government.

The "Marselllaise" at St. Petersburg.-There i some reason to hope that the wonderful friendship which has sprung up between France and Russia may tend to infuse more liberal and progressive ideas into the mind of the Czar, for the papers received from St. Petersburg describe the wild enthusiasm created at the principal circus of the Russian capital the other night by the playing of the "Marseillaise," the audience joining in the refrain. Several members of the Imperial family are said to have been present, and do not appear to have shown any signs of offence at the verse which summons the people to inflict death on the tyrants.

Pie Instead of Floral Emblem.—A curious memorial gift was recently placed on a tomb in the great Père la Chalse Cemetery. The grave was the last resting-place of the famous gourmet, Brillat-Savarin; and the memorial, destined evidently to commemorate the anniversary of his death, consisted of a splendid ple, or pate, made of partridges and truffles, presumably deposited there by the pious hand of some cook, who justly regarded this as an infinitely more appropriate tribute to the illustrious dead than any commonplace flowers.
